Mr. Minor Reports No Purchaser Could Be Found at Chicago Meeting-Anson Rumors Unimportant.

Benjamin S. Minor, of the law firm of Washington Baseball Club at the meeting of the American League in Chicago this week, returned to Washington late reporter in his office in the Colorado Building this morning, said that the affairs of the club were in the same uncertain state in which they have been for the past year. No purchaser for the franchise has been found and from the present outlook the club will be handled by the American League next season, as it was last season. Mr. Minor said:

Anson Will Not Buy.

the report that Capt, Adrian C, Anson will buy the club. There was some tentative talk on the proposition, but it bore no results. The league is anxious that the club should, if possible, be owned entirely by Washington interests, and it would prefer that these interests be concentrated in the hands of a few men, as such an arrangement makes it easier to the business details; but if the local patrons think best it would not object to having the stock distributed in a number of small lots.

"There need be no fear that Washington will be without a major league team next year. There is no foundation for the reports that the franchise will be transferred to some other city, as it is realized that this is a splendid place for a club.

League to Run Club.

"If no purchaser is found before the season begins the Senators will go right ahead as if the property had been bought by some individual or group of individuals, and it is the intention to individuals, and it is the intention to give the city a quality of baseball better than it has had for some time.

"I have been back such a short time that I have had no opportunity to talk business with any of the men I have in mind, but if you know of anyone who wants a good investment in the enterprise he will find that the American League is willing to talk business on a most reasonable basis."

must be distinctly specified

This is a vital question. The old game, everyone says, is too brutal. It should be more open, allowing light men to have a chance and not placing such a premium on brute force as to make possible a team of "waddling fat men," such as Harvard was said to have last sedson.

He will make a good successor to Church, the management would have postponed the game, but neither of the teams wanted this, as they were on edge and wanted this, as they were on edge and the game decided today or not fall, but failed to win the big game with Tech, although Captain Church's men casily defeated Central in the first big fame of the campaign. Next season Harvard was said to have last season, Two Knocked Out.

In the first practice of the Association team two men were knocked out, but that is no indication of a steady string of injuries later on. As a matter of fact, the new game combines many features which make its prospects exceedingly bright. Any man who has grit, speed, intelligence, and endurance can make the team, and already the game numbers among its supporters many men who have figured prominently in Rugby football.

As a "feeder" for the Rugby team the Association game probably will become popular, for it develops speed and ability to punt in a marked degree. After the Christmas recess the Association men will elect a captain and plans will be made for a vigorous spring campaign.

Army and Navy Men Undaunted by Storm

Game Being Played as Scheduled—Detachment of Soldier's and Sailors Cleared Field of Snow.

The heavy snowstorm which has been falling for the past twelve hours has no terrors for the boys in blue, and the post-season Army-Navy championship game is being played at American League Park as scheduled.

Early this morning a detachment of nearly one hundred soldiers and sailors volunteered to clean the field, and as soon as scoops enough could be gotten together the men started to work. In two hours the field had been gone over once, and from then on the force remained and kept the griding clear.

We can't quite catch what Parker says when he gets a "spit" or misses a spare.

One of the members of the Interior team has just had his hair cut, but you can hardly notice it at all.

Budke, of the Bureau, is doing about the best rolling of any one on his team academy shortly before dinner and hard the regular and scrub eleven run through signals. At the Washington Barracks the team was put to work in the gunners' hall, and had a long series of play drill. In the Departmental Bowling League last night at the Palace alleys the Commissioners had an easy time defeating $5.00 Boys' Overcoats for. the Treasury three straight games. In the first game the Commissioners did their best work, rolling up 996, while Treasury could do no better than 762. The other games were won by wide margins, but by none so high as in the first. Smith, with 216, was high man, and the only one to go over 200. The Navy Yard rolled up 963 in the second game last night at the Palace alleys, when it defeated the Postiffice in first two games and lost the last one by the narrow margin of six pins The bowling in this series was good and aroused much enthusiasm. Gould, of the Navy Yard, with 236 in the second game, carried off the individual honors for the series and the night. Bowsher and Bishop got 202 and 205, respectively.

Mechanical took 'em all in the Railway Relief Association League. The feature was the way in which the entire Lighting Company team fell down in the sec ond game, getting only 682. Smith, with 199, was high man by several pins.
